

Sudan Mission

“St. James's needs to know that even though we are only there for a short time we can make a difference.” Locals in Akot and the surrounding area are so appreciative of the medical care and educational support provided by the St. James's Sudan Mission teams over the past 4 years. Dr. Clarke of Mustard Seed International shared with us how the local community still talks about how much the medical mission of 2007 positively impacted the community. “Meningitis was epidemic at that time in Sudan, but not in the area in and around Akot largely due to the work that mission trip did, as a result thousands of lives had been saved.” This year, the team was able to offer yet another life saving gift – anti-venom.
